Organizations

Christ Episcopal Church in Dover is one of Delaware's oldest churches, as the original portion dates from 1734. The Parish was founded by the English Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts in 1705. Just as the church serves a vital need in an individual's life, the clubs and societies of Seaford High School embrace various interests and activities.

Music

Zwaanendael Museum at Lewes, Delaware, was erected to commemorate the settlement made by the Dutch in 1631. This was the first settlement in the state but was wiped out by Indian raids. The enchanting sounds of the pilot boats up the historic Delaware Canal, the mysterious whisper of the deserted beach in winter lend inspiration for the various musical outlets in Seaford.

SCHWEBLERO

"L'il Abner" Production Wins Applause

Seaford students portrayed Al Capp's famous cartoon characters in the stage version of "L'il Abner" to a packed house three consecutive nights last April. This popular satirical musical of Broadway fame was directed by Mr. David Cline, music instructor, assisted by Mr. Abb Gunn, Band Director; Miss Leigh Dobson, Dramatics Director; Mrs. Carol Partridge, Solo Director; and Mrs. Trina Eichenseer, Art Director.

Delores Lloyd played the shy, coy, blonde, Daisy Mae, whose one desire was to capture girl-shy L'il Abner portrayed by Carey Saddler. Other Dogpatchers included Mammy Yokem (Mary Lynn Burris), Pappy Yokem (Barry Hill), Earthquake McGoon (Barry Blackwell), and Marryin' Sam (Jack Allen). Approximately 200 other student took part in the band, chorus, and community of Dogpatch, U.S.A.
